Both Moms and Dads Matter Male and Female Career Percentages

We are going to play a little game to see if we can guess correctly which careers have more men or women working in that field. Click the box below to access the game and have fun!

Let's Learn Why –

Men and women have different motivations that are a result of biology. Women tend to choose careers where they can nurture others and children. Men, on the other hand, choose to work in careers where they can protect others, are required to lift heavy things, and do hard labor tasks.
