Preparing for Marriage Back to Back Drawing

Develop your communication skills

What you'll need:

- Paper
- Pens/markers
- Printouts of simple line drawings or basic shapes.

Instructions:

- Grab another person or divide the group into pairs.
- Have each pair sit back-to-back.
- One person gets a picture of a shape or simple image, and the other gets a piece of paper and pen.
- The person holding the picture gives verbal instructions to their partner on how to draw the shape or image they've been given (without simply telling them what the shape or image is).
- After a set amount of time, have each set of partners compare their images and see which team drew the most accurate replica.
- Now, repeat the process with the former drawer giving instructions and their partner now draws.

Discussion questions:

- Did you find it easy or difficult to explain to your partner what you were seeing?
- Did you find it was better to give lots of clues or directions, or was it better to slow down and be more precise with your communication to your partner?
- How did your listening skills help you in this activity? What do we need to do to be good listeners?
